Dear Associate

National office has made the application so I will respond in relation to the technicalities of the question.

We have already provided copies of the application, Mr Eddington's statement and the redacted statements to the other parties that usually attend these proceedings. I can advise who they were if you require.

I do not at this stage know what Mr Eddington's availability will be, but assume that unless he is already listed in another matter he will be available on the date and time proposed – as am I.
